

Revitalization

Schuylkill River Development Corporation
Annual Report 2010

Mission: The Schuylkill River Development Corporation (SRDC) is a public-private partnership leading the development of Schuylkill Banks. With a proven track record in raising funds, promoting city assets, and collaborating with a broad and diverse constituency, SRDC works with federal, state, city and private agencies to coordinate, plan and implement economic, recreational, environmental and cultural improvements and tourism initiatives on the lower Schuylkill River Between the Fairmount Dam and the Delaware River.

Message from the Chairman

Revitalizing the riverfront corridor

The past two years have been very busy for the Schuylkill River Development Corporation. While many projects along the tidal Schuylkill River are still in the works, the SRDC team made great strides in revitalizing this important riverfront corridor.

The landscaping and enhancement contract for the North End of Schuylkill Banks between Race Street and Martin Luther King Boulevard was completed in 2009, creating a new gateway into the greenway. The John F. Kennedy Boulevard Bridge and Market Street Bridge improvements were also completed in 2009, enhancing pedestrian and bicycle experiences on these busy bridges. SRDC began construction on the Grays Ferry Crescent trail segment in 2010, taking another step towards greening and beautifying diverse riverfront neighborhoods in South and West Philadelphia. Designs are moving along for the TIGER funded Boardwalk, Schuylkill River Parks Connector Bridge and Walnut Street Gateway projects, all of which should be complete by 2012.

Our stakeholders, including major corporations, individuals, community groups, and government agencies, continued to generously support SRDC's endeavors. We are fortunate to have continued support from the University of Pennsylvania, Drexel University, Sunoco, Brandywine Realty Trust, PECO and SCA

Americas, among others. Individual giving has continued to grow during the past two years, clearly showing the personal connection that trail users feel to Schuylkill Banks, and a new Friends of Schuylkill Banks group formed in 2010 to raise even more money for SRDC.

We are grateful to the tens of thousands of people who recreate and commute on Schuylkill Banks every week, and to the thousands more who participate in events on the Banks. We appreciate your support of our mission. Increased trail use and event attendance is a testament to the success of our community revitalization and outreach program, and to the special place that the Banks holds in our neighborhoods. This activity also further strengthens the support of key organizations and foundations who share the vision of a vibrant and sustainable riverfront in the heart of Philadelphia. Thank you for your continued passion and support of Schuylkill Banks.

On behalf of our entire Board and dedicated staff, we look forward to working with you to further advance our mission during 2011.

Best regards,

Gerard H. Sweeney, Chairman
Schuylkill River Development Corp.

Message from the CEO

Revitalizing our community

For me, some of the best moments in 2009 and 2010 were taking groups out on the Schuylkill Banks River Tours. Tour participants asked great questions about the history of the Schuylkill and about current and future development of the river. The continued popularity of these tours over the years and the highly engaged nature of our tour participants speaks to the important place that the tidal Schuylkill holds in the hearts and minds of our neighbors and to the magnetic attraction of riverfronts to Philadelphia's visitors.

In the past few years, Schuylkill Banks has evolved from a new amenity into a beloved community landmark. On any given day the trail is crowded with cyclists and joggers, while sunbathers, picnickers and fisher people take advantage of the riverfront greenway. Our summer and fall programming events continue to grow in popularity, attracting even more people to the Hidden River.

With the construction of the Grays Ferry Crescent underway in 2010, SRDC came one step closer to achieving our vision of extending Schuylkill Banks to diverse neighborhoods in South and West Philadelphia. It is exciting to watch the crescent transform from a blank canvas into a vital and sustainable greenway. We look forward to making this stretch of river accessible to neighboring communities for the first time in over a century!

A big highlight in 2009 was watching pedestrian friendly and aesthetic enhancements to the JFK Blvd. and Market St. Bridges unfold. SRDC worked with a very cooperative PennDOT which was undertaking JFK Bridge improvements. PennDOT was very receptive to SRDC suggestions and initiatives, illustrating SRDC's success working with public partners to revitalize the tidal Schuylkill Corridor.

The Schuylkill Banks Center continues to be the hub of activity on the Banks. A core team of volunteers were on hand at the center on weekends during the summer and fall of 2009 and 2010 informing trail users of upcoming events, educating the public about future greenway development, and making a nice place to grab a bottle of water and relax on the trail. These volunteers also assisted setting up and staffing all of the events held on Schuylkill Banks, from movie nights and fish fests, to kayak and riverboat tours.

I would like to thank everyone who helps to make Schuylkill Banks a success, and I look forward to 2011!

Sincerely,

Joseph R. Syrnick, President & CEO
Schuylkill River Development Corp.

2009-2010: Our guiding principles lead revitalization

Improving riverfront access and connections

SRDC made it easier for people to access and enjoy the trail and greenway on Schuylkill Banks between Locust Street and Martin Luther King Boulevard.

- New landscaping and hardscaping at the North End of Schuylkill Banks created a new welcoming gateway into the greenway.
- A new composting restroom was installed by Walnut Street, sustainably meeting a frequently cited user need.
- Pedestrian and bicycle friendly improvements were completed on the JFK Boulevard and Market Street Bridges.

Creating new riverfront destinations

Unique programming and recreational opportunities on Schuylkill Banks enhance the river's natural magnetism and draw people to the greenway.

- Hundreds of people got a new perspective on the Schuylkill River and the City of Philadelphia during Schuylkill Banks Kayak Tours.
- Entertaining and educational Schuylkill Banks River Tours drew thousands of people to the Hidden River.
- The first annual Art in the Open festival encouraged professional artists working in a variety of mediums to interpret the Schuylkill's beauty and significance.

Improving physical conditions

SRDC's commitment to making positive environmental and quality of life improvements along the Schuylkill continued in the area between the Fairmount Dam and Locust Street and at the Grays Ferry Crescent

- Landscaping and trail furnishing is underway on the Grays Ferry Crescent trail segment.
- Three staff members provide daily trail maintenance, litter pickup and graffiti removal.
- Schuylkill Banks continues to be one of the most popular sites during the annual citywide Philly Spring Cleanup.

Building Strong Communities

Summer and fall programs on Schuylkill Banks, offered by SRDC, the Department of Parks and Recreation and the City of Philadelphia, continue to grow in popularity.

- Schuylkill Banks' annual free movie series brought together hundreds of neighbors from all walks of life.
- A team of intrepid volunteers staffed the Schuylkill Banks Center during events and on weekends during the summer and fall.
- The annual Philly FUN Fishing Fest drew more than one hundred Philadelphians looking to land the largest catch of the day.

Summary of accounting policiesNature of operations

Schuylkill River Development Corporation ("SRDC") is a Pennsylvania nonprofit corporation whose mission is to achieve visible and positive change for the tidal Schuylkill River, the urban section of the Schuylkill Watershed. SRDC seeks to stimulate, promote and coordinate physical, social and economic improvements and to transform the River into a vital economic, social and environmental resource in partnership with public and private sector agencies. SRDC's activities are funded primarily by a small number of contributors and grantors.

Basis of presentation

SRDC works with federal, state, city and private agencies to coordinate, plan and implement economic, recreational, environmental and capital improvements to property primarily owned by the City of Philadelphia. Such improvements are included in expenses in the period in which the improvements are made.

Net assets are classified as permanently restricted, temporarily restricted, or unrestricted, depending upon the existence and nature of donor-imposed stipulations. Gifts of cash and other assets, including unconditional promises to give, are reported as restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Cash and cash equivalents

SRDC considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. Cash equivalents consist primarily of money market funds.

Concentration of credit risk

Certain financial instruments, primarily cash and cash equivalents, and receivables, potentially subject SRDC to concentrations of credit risk. Contributions and grants receivable arise from a limited number of government and foundation sources. As of June 30, 2010 and 2009, all receivables are considered fully collectible.

Income taxes

SRDC is exempt from tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. FASB Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 740 addresses the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes and establishes for all entities, including not-for-profit entities such as SRDC, a minimum threshold for financial statement recognition of the benefit of positions taken or expected to be taken in filing tax returns (including whether an entity is taxable in a particular jurisdiction). SRDC recognizes tax benefits only if it is more likely than not that a tax position (including SRDC's assertion that its income is exempt from tax) will be sustained upon examination. No liability for unrecognized tax benefits was recorded.

Subsequent events

Management has evaluated subsequent events through December 16, 2010, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Contributions and grants receivable

As of June 30, 2010, all contributions and grants receivable were expected to be received in less than one year.

Line of credit

SRDC has a $150,000 line of credit from a lending institution. Borrowings are collateralized by substantially all assets, are due on demand and bear interest at the lending institution's prime rate plus 1%. There was no outstanding balance on the line of credit at June 30, 2010 or June 20, 2009.

Retirement plan

SRDC has a defined contribution 403(b) retirement plan covering eligible employees. SRDC contributes a discretionary percentage of the amount of the employees' elective deferral. Plan contributions were $6,508 and $4,500 for fiscal 2010 and 2009, respectively.

Temporarily restricted net assets

Temporarily restricted net assets are available for the following purposes:

	2010	2009
Capital projects and other	$ 1,854,511	$1,916,261
Subsequent year operations	$ 162,000	$220,000
	$ 2,016,511	$2,136,261

Report of independent certified public accountants

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of Schuylkill River Development Corporation (a Pennsylvania corporation, not-for-profit) as of June 30, 2010 and 2009, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the management of Schuylkill River Development Corporation. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Schuylkill River Development Corporation as of June 30, 2010 and 2009, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
